FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

PRIDAY, Jan. 21-6 P. M. Wall street continues to get up a sensation every new and then, and has broken the monotony once more with

A SENSATION IN ROCK ISLAND.

The street had been slied with rumors for a m past of an overissue of stock, and when this story was asserted quite positively a few weeks almos the jubilant "bears" forced the price down to 101%, but a reaction came when nothing new was developed concerning the overtime and the price went back to 108%. The story was hereupon repeated and the at-tention of the Governing Committee of the Stock Exchange was called to the matter.
That body held a meeting to-day, and the fact having been ascertained by the confession of one of the officials of the road that the company had issued two millions of new stock last June, deelded upon peremptorily striking Rock Island from the call of stocks at the board. The excitement upon this announcement was very great. The bre-kers in the Long Room were apprised of the ac-tion of the committee, and were, of course, required to suspend their dealings in the forbilden hares, at least in the Long Room, which is govcrowd poured out upon the sidewalk in front of the building and business was there resumed in tive favorite, is to be found in nearly all the brokers' offices in Wall street; hence the failure of the Stock Exchange mandate to repress dealings in it. The price, which had to 103%, but seemed to touch bottom at that figure and several times reacted to 104, but closed finally instead of 20,000 shares was the amount of the over-issue. The effect of the admission from the comto have been discounted in the decline of the stock from 138 last summer to its present price. Had not a panic in the stock to-day, but when the first flurry vas over its market became steady and comparatively quiet. The striking of the stock from the list is only in conformity with the laws of the board.

which provide that

The Stock Exchange will not call or deal in any active speculative stock of any company, a registry of whose stock is not kept in some responsible bank, trust company or other satisfactory agency, and which shall not give public notice at the time of establishing such registry of the number of snares see entrusted to be registered, and shall not give at least thirty days' notice through the newspapers, and in writing to the fresident of the Stock Exchange, of any Intended increase of the number of shares, either direct or through the issue of the convertible bonds, and shall not at the same time give notice of the object for whom such issue of stock or bonds is about to be made.

On the other hand, the sempany cloum that they

On the other hand, the company claim that they virtually gave notice to the Stock Exchange in a printed copy of a resolution adopted at a meeting of thorized. The resolution referred to is as follows:-

forc, Resolved, That in our opinion the said Board of Directors or the Executive Committee thereof should raise such sum as may be needed as aforesaid by the asue shad sale of bonds or stock, or both, as in their judgment the best interests of said company de-mand.

action of the Governing Committee. The thirty day rule is one which can be easily obviated whenever the directors of any road are speculatively inclined. In selling stock "short" to issue anew. Then the required notice can be given and the new stock returned for the barrows ings has not been felt, for the action of the Governi Committee was taken about the end of banking trouble in the shifting of leans on the estracis stock which is deprived of a regular market. It w be remembered that Brie was similarly situal when expelled from the call. Some of the expr ocks were likewise suspended for a time, and no Rock Island makes the latest instance of the enfor ment of the rule requiring a complete registrati of all the snares dealt in at the Stock Exchange.

Before affairs had reached this pass the sto to 73% for the common and 89 for the preferre mpon the supposed discovery that a heavy operat had sent a large quantity of the stock to the trans office for reissue in smaller certificates. But af tion of the street was directed thereto and the re of the list became dult and heavy and finally slined. Indeed, when Rock Island was banished the sidewalk the group of brokers fellowed is a the market was virtually established outside t building. The question has been raised whether t proposed new usue of Wabash is a viol tion of the bylaws requiring thirty days p liminary notice. The Governing Committee he taken no action spon it as yet and probab will not as the new shares are deliverable only the holders of the present stock and are, therefor already ruled admissible in the case of Pittsbur judicial to the interests of stockholders.

THE MONEY MARKET being the exceptional rate. Commercial paper co tinues more current, and discounts for prime double names range from 7% to 10 per cent. Foreign exchange was firm on the basis of 109 for prime bankers' sixty days sterling, the demand for Saturday's steamer being quite under the DECLINE IN GOLD. The heaviness of the gold market was still more marked to-day, and the price of the precious metal fell to 120%, at which some small amounts were sold towards the close of business in the Gold Room. The dulness of the gold market is in strong contract to the activity of a few weeks since. The cliques, in changing their tactics to the "bear" side, after

"bulling" the price to 123%, have been eminently GOVERNMENTS LOWER The government market was directly sympathetic with gold and followed its fuctuations with close precision. The prices at the opening were about as at the close last night and remained barely steady during the boards. In the atternoon, when gold had fallen to the lowest point of the day, governments weakened and declined to the following final street prices:—United States currency sixes, 110% a 110%; do., 1881, registered, 117% a 117%; do. do. THE STATE BONDS IRREGULAN.

In Southern securities the feature was an advance in Tennessees, based upon the action of the State Legislature in authorizing the railways to issue six per cent bonds with which to cancel a portion of the State debt. The improvement was about two and state debt. The improvement was about two and again weak and heavy. Virginias were steady. The Louislanas were lower upon the announcement that the State intends to extend its aid to more railways, but the effect was more perceptible in the levee eight per cents. South Carolinas were strong. NAVAL FRAUDS.

An Indignant Embezzler-Paymaster's Clerk Bogart's Court Martial Order-Interesting Correspondence and Threatened Revelations.

The following correspondence and court martial erder from the Navy Department show that Bogart, the paymaster's clerk who was tried last July or charges of theft, fraud and desertion, feels satisfied with himself and dissatisfied with the administra-tion of affairs on board the Vermont. Should be fulfit the threat conveyed in his letter it is possible that the Navy Department may gain some valuable information in matters of much public interest:-

TO THE KDITOR OF THE HERALD:—

Not long since there appeared in the New York daily San an article signed by one R. D. Bogart, entitled "The Great Navy Frauds," in which my name appeared as a defaulter. I have since received from the writer of that article the following letter:— NEW YORK, Jan. 20, 1870.

Paymaster A. J. Clark:

New York, Jan. 29, 1870.

Paymaster A. J. Clark:

Dian Sir.—I have heard that you have made an effort to have published in the case ties order of Secretary Robeson In regard to my recont trial. Very rely yours.

GENERAL ORDER NO. 143.
NAVY DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, Oct. 24, 1800

NAVY DEPARTMENT,

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23, 1809.

I.—Before a General Court Marthal convence at New York, by order of the Secretary of the Navy, dated July 31, 1809, of which court Commodore A. M. Pennock, United States Navy, was President, was arraigned and tried it. D. Bogart, Paymaster's Clerk, upon the following charges and specifications:—

CHARGE I. "Stealing money of the United States."—Specification—"In this, that on or about the lat day of December, 1803, R. D. Bogart, while serving as paymaster's clerk on board the United States receiving ship Vermont, then lying at or near the New York Navy Yard, did steal, from the same in the Paymaster's office of and vessel, a sum of money, amounting to $10,000 or thereabouts, belonging to the United States, furnished for use in the naval service thereof, thereby violating the act of Congress, approved March 2, 1863, entitled 'An act the prevent and punish frauds upon the government of the United States."

and punnsh frauds upon the government of the United States."

GHARS 2. "Fraud."—Specification—"in this, that the said R. D. Rogart, while employed as paymaster's clerk on board the United States receiving ship Vermont, lying at or near the Navy Yard, New York, etc., during the year 1868, at various times make false entries on the books of the paymaster of said vessel, thereby defrauding the United States."

CHARSE 3. "Desertion."—Specification—"in this, that on or about the first day of December. 1868, the said k. D. Rogart, while employed as paymaster's clerk on board the United States receiving ship Vermont, at New York, did desert from said vessel and from the Navy Yard, and did not return again until brought on board by a guard of marines, the zeth day of July, 1869."

To these charges and specifications the accused pleaded "Not guity."

Finding.—The court, upon full examination of the testimony and due consideration of the defence, find as follows:—

as follows:—
"That the specification of the first charge is proved, except the amount of $10,000, a less amount proved;" that the accused is guilty of the first charge.

proved; that the accused is guity of the first charge.

That the specification of the second charge is proved; that the accused is guity of the second charge.

That the specification of the third charge is proved; that the accused is guity of the third charge.

SECTENCE.—"To be confined for three years in such resultentiary or private as the provention of the second charge.

SE-TENCE.—"To be confined for three years in such pentientiary or prison as the honorable Secretary of the Navy may designate, and at the expiration of said confinement to forfeit all pay and emoluments now due him or that may hereafter become due him, and to be dishonorably discharged from the naval service of the United States."

11.—The Secretary of the Navy, after much consideration, feels compelled to disapprove and set aside the proceedings, findings and sentence in this case.

II.—The Secretary of the Navy, after much consideration, teels compelled to desapprove and set and the proceedings, findings and sentence in this case.

R. D. Bogart, the accused, ceased to be a paymaster's cierk December 10, 1800, by the acceptance of his resignation, and the appointment and qualification of his successor, more than six months before these proceedings were instituted. Unless, therefore, there be some act of Congress applicable to his case, which prolonged his hisblirty to minisary ceutre for military offences after he had been allowed to leave the service, he was not subject to trial by naval court martial on charges preferred after that date.

Unfortunately there is no suce has applicable to the second and third charges. For "descrition," therefore, he was not triable by this cear, nor was he so triable for 'fraud' as such, per se, and apart from any of that class of offences which include it. And even if the cruse of fraud had been an effence embraced by the provisions of any act of Congress, no prisoner could be held under a charge and specification so vague and uncertain as those made in this case.

For the offence of stealing money belonging to the United States Bogart remained liable to be tried by court martial, under the act of Congress above referred to; for that act continues hability for this crime beyond the term of service.

Unfortunately, however, the evidence in this case fails utterly to establish the offence charged, which is "their," It tends to prove the other, and quite distinct offence, of embezzlement. Upon that proof the conviction was wrong, because hiegal. The offences of theft and embezzlement are quite distinct in law, and the act of Congress above referred to enumerates them separately as different offence; and to hold Bogars guity of their because found only in the strict application of general rules; and that he is not authorized to substitute his individual will in those cases where these rules fail by reason of their generality.

SOCIAL WICKEDNESS

Another Lunatle Asylum Case-Remarka blo Developments-3 range Attempts to Deprive a Man of His Liberty and Property.

The story of Mr. O. A. Wood is novel, strange and errible. It is novel only, however, in the fact that the details of it are singularly outrageous. In Engand so numerous were the cases of villanous con spiracy against men said to be lunatic, but who in reality were as same as the most of men, that pecu-liar and very critical legislation had to be adopted to meet the inexorable action of wily and interested conspirators.

stated yesterday to a HERALD reporter that he held a larm in January, 1863, on Staten Island, and having been attacked by erysipelas made a will in deference to the wishes of his wife. In May, 1833, Mr. Wood was seriously injured by failing down stairs and receiving injuries on the head.

From these accidents three suits arose. First, he sought a divorce from his wife, and simultaneously against Dr. Cameron, a medical friend, and Mr. W. H. Phillips, his legatees. Dr. Cameron, Mr. Phillips and Mrs. Wood defended these suits on the ground of Mr. Wood's insanity. Of his attendant, a coarse Irishman, Mr. Wood had much to complain, but the answer he had to his complaints was that Dr. Cam-eron had appropriated the key of his box in the office of the Safe Deposit Company and kept it.

During these seven months of troubles, his wife, who had been under "treatment" by Dr. Cameron for rheumatism, spent only ten days in the house of who had been under "treatment" by Dr. Cameron for rheumiatism, spent only ten days in the house of Mr. Wood, and in answer to his complaints and remonstrances she promised to got better soon and stay with him. During this time his wife went out to drive with Dr. Cameron, and, good son, held the Doctor's horse while ne paid professional visits. Long before Mr. Wood's fall be had toaned the worthy Doctor $1,800, and held his promissory note for the same. His will, too, fell linto the hands of Dr. Cameron. It was only by the action of the Supreme Court that his will and the promissory note were reacroed to him in May last. Finding his correspondence interfered with, this, in connection with the other outrages, determined that to exclude Cameron from his house. He sought to do so, but Cameron and his attendant, by their united strength, overpowered him.

Mr. Wood, actuated by a desire to get hold of his papers officially but also yielding to urgent entreates, came from Staten Island to New York and put up at Dr. Cameron's house. On coming he domanded his papers but instead of getting them he was waited on by Dr. W. B. Eager and Mr. W. H. Philips, both of whom carnestly asked him out to ride. He refused. He believed they wanted to get away, but Dr. Cameron stopped his way, and he was driven to the expedient of jumping through a parlor window. A woman servant sought to intercept him, but he rid himself of her and went to the house of Dr. Eager. On the way he deposited the neithers he had written in a mail box. These letters were directed to his brother in New Orleans and to his sister, also in New Orleans. He stated in them the croumstances of his will and those of the featrul complete. In Dr. Eager's house, he tood the had for his jears and sorrows. He feared for his will and for the promissory note and the key of the box, but felt inclined to believe the was in safe hands, netwithstanding his experiences.

Poor Wood discovered only too late that Eager and Cameron were "chums," and attended each other's patients. He standing his experiences.

Poor Wood discovered only too late that Eager and Cameron were "chums," and attended each other's patients. He breakfasted the following morning at Eager's house. Eager having gone out, and while Wood was meditating what he ought to do, a posse of men entered, armed with documents. They told him toat he was mad, that Doctors Cameron and Eager were waiting at the City Hall to receive him and that a carriage was at the door for him.

To Bloomingdale Asylum they took Mr. Wood, and there he remained ten days. After that time he was released on parole and went to the Astor House, where he learned that his brother had got his letter, had come to New York and had obtained his release, ife further learned that Mr. G. S. Young had gone to Staten Island, and finding he was not there, asked for his wife, whom he was told was ill and could not come down stairs. On her presence being demanded, she (Mrs. Wood) made her appearance, and in tears, told that her husband was he Eloomingdale Asylum.

Mr. Wood also states that while confined to bed at Staten Island, and written to the company not to pay any moneys in his name, they refused to accede to Cameron's represented the key of Wood's box. Wood however, having written to the company not to pay any moneys in his name, they refused to accede to Cameron's representations, though he asserted it was all for the benefit of Wood's family. At this time Wood asserts that Cameron owed him $10,000.

Mrs. Wood has received ten dollars a week regulariy for her support since the institution of the divorce sait, which is to be summed up on Monday before Air. J. C. Smith, the referee of the Supreme Court.

CHEAP TRANSPORTATION OF GRAIN. - A letter to the CHEAP TRANSPORTATION OF GRAIN.—A letter to the Ladyer from a correspondent in Dublime, lowa, states that a remedy has been discovered against the extraordinary freight charges imposed by rainway companies on the transportation of grain to the Eastern markets. He says:—"An experiment has been made with 50,000 busnels of wheat, shipping it from Winona, in Mismesota, to New Orleans, and thence to Liverpool. The result briefly is this: It has cost but 49% cents a bushel to ship this wheat from Winona (912 miles from the mouth of the Mississipply to Liverpool, while by the most favorable route the freight energes to New York and other Atlantic ports are 55% cents a bushel." These facts are highly suggestive.—Philadelphia Ledger, Jan. 21.
